

NOT SPACE NOR TIME

spring's once new born trees release now golden leaves feel cool autumn come as summer fades, bereaved not space nor time left in a life

to dream in peace
changes unwind in your eyes seasons collide

take once cherished love a breath from sky above breathe life in full lungs accept and surrender

fade from yesteryear and treasures once held dear move forward with the breeze that brings us to our knees

seasons collide
